To whom it may concern:

The Cincinnati Post of the Society of American Military Engineers (SAME) hereby announces our 2010 scholarship program. The Post intends to award a total of $3,000 in scholarships split between up to three qualified students in March 2010. The scholarships are intended to assist local students who are pursuing an undergraduate degree in engineering, architecture, math, or science at a college and/or university level. This year the Cincinnati SAME Post has opened the scholarship to previous recipients; we may award a scholarship to a previous winner if they are still an engineering student and participating in SAME, but no less than one of the scholarships will be awarded to a new recipient. A description of the scholarship program is attached and presented at the Cincinnati Post website at:

http://www.posts.same.org/cincinnati/

The SAME Cincinnati Post reactivated the college scholarship program in 2008 and intends to award scholarships annually. The application can be downloaded from the website and should be completed and submitted with attachments through the website or mailed to:
