NEWS FROM THE POST PRESIDENT . . . The Power Of Your Influence

Who needs amusement parks? In these days, to experience the anxious climbs and stomach-churning falls of the roller coaster is simply a matter of being invested in the stock market. There are many worrisome distractions competing for our attention. Last issue I urged you to make ready your personal provisions for an emergency situation – natural or man-made – as part of your commitment to national defense. I'm not sure that an MRE, a flashlight and a bottle of water will help you survive the market swings, but maintaining steadfast composure and keeping a steady hand on the wheel will do wonders for our resolve as a nation.

When people asked, "I'm not sure what I can do to influence the situation", I am reminded of a story recounted recently by U.S. Representative Todd Tiahrt about George Washington.

According to Washington's memoirs, he was designated to be the leader of the Revolutionary Army, and when he took over the army was in Boston. As Washington was traveling there, the battle for Bunker Hill was raging. At that time, the victory, before he arrived, was astounding. Shop owners and farmers were able to defeat the world's most powerful military, and it rippled around the globe.

After he got there, there was a long siege, and eventually the British boarded their ships and sailed toward New York. Washington packed up his cannons and marched to Manhattan Island to intercept them. The British forced him to retreat from Manhattan and eventually he was pushed out of New York, then Delaware and finally Washington had a series of retreats from Pennsylvania until he ended up in a very cold winter in a very cold place called Valley Forge. And in that winter, as in every year, it was his job to request his men to volunteer another year of service. So one cold gray evening, he lined up all his soldiers, and he went to speak to them.

NEWS FROM THE PRESIDENT . . .

Continued

According to his memoirs he gave what he thought was the best speech of his career. He spoke about freedom, liberty and about what they were giving to their families. And at the end of that speech, he asked them to volunteer for another year. Every one of them remained silent in their standing position. Not knowing what to say, he retreated once more, this time to a nearby tent where he paced back and forth.

He finally went back outside, and as it was getting dark he stumbled through a second speech. This time he thought it was the absolute worst speech he had ever given. But at the end of it he said, "And as a sign you will volunteer, I want you to take one step forward", and then bowed his head to stare at his boots. After what seemed like an eternity to him, an elderly gentleman, who had blankets wrapped around his feet because he had no shoes, took one step forward.

Within seconds, the entire army had taken that monumental step forward. They volunteered for another year. And they eventually fought their way to Yorktown, VA, where Lord Cornwallis surrendered his sword to George Washington.

They spawned a nation with their courage, their resolve, their steadfastness, in the harshest of conditions. An elderly gentleman, with seemingly little to offer, influenced an army of men to stay in the fight. His decision affected not only his family, but his influence continues to this day.

You would be surprised how much influence you have on those around you – your family, your friends, your coworkers, those at church or the grocery store. They listen to you, to what you have to say, because you are leaders. And it's not contradictory to say the strongest leaders are those who serve.

I urge you to continue to serve, to stay involved. Involved in the mission that embodies SAME – to promote and facilitate engineering support for national security. In the face of an economic winter I urge you to take a step forward and "re-up" to protect and serve this great Nation, and the principles upon which she was founded. Let's work together to keep our profession and our country strong!

SUMMARY OF AUGUST GENERAL MEETING . . .

The August meeting of the Kentuckiana Post was held on Tuesday, 19 August 2008 at the Leaders Club at Fort Knox, Kentucky. Sixty two (62) members and guests were in attendance including 32 NCOs and Junior Officers from the 19th Engineer Battalion. Clay Kelly, President of the Kentuckiana Chapter, opened the meeting by leading the group in a prayer and the Pledge of Allegiance.

President Kelly reported that the Post has provided PDH certificates for the day’s meeting, which can be used toward meeting the new requirement in Kentucky for continuing education for professional engineers. He encouraged everyone to sign in as the sign-in sheets will be used as back-up in the event that someone loses their certificate and needs proof of attendance for a continuing education audit.

President Kelly reminded the attendees of the SAME Regional Conference from 26-28 August to be held in Huntington, West Virginia. He reminded those in attendance more details on the event could be found on the website at www.same.org.

President Kelly encouraged participation at the Post Golf Scramble being held on 9 September at Quail Chase. He outlined future programs to be held at the Mazzoli Federal Building which include: 16 September, Hans Probst, former Kentuckiana Post President, who will speak on “My Experiences as an Engineering Brigade Commander in Iraq”; 21 October, Jim Fitzhugh will be presenting on the USAR RFP Instruction Manual; and 18 November, Jon Miller will be speaking on ATFP Challenges in Renovation of Existing Military Facilities.

President Kelly then introduced the featured speaker, LTC Heath C. Roscoe, 19th Engineer Battalion Commander who spoke on “Engineering to Fight Insurgents”. LTC Roscoe opened the meeting with an overview of the 19th Engineer Battalion and then introduced CPT Robert R. Fairel, CPT Kerrie Second and MAJ Jeffrey D. Hall who each presented information regarding the mission and deployment to Iraq of the 19th Engineer Battalion. Their presentation was accompanied by pictures that showed the work they performed and the conditions they encountered in their missions.

The meeting concluded at approximately 1:00 p.m.

SUMMARY OF SEPTEMBER GENERAL MEETING . . .

The September meeting of the Kentuckiana Post was held on Tuesday, 16 September 2008 in the cafeteria meeting room of the Mazzoli Federal Building. Forty-three (43) members and guests were in attendance. Clay Kelly, President of the Kentuckiana Chapter, opened the meeting by leading the group in a prayer and the Pledge of Allegiance.

President Kelly reminded the group that they can receive PDH certificates for the day’s meeting, which can be used toward meeting the new requirement in Kentucky for continuing education for professional engineers.

SUMMARY OF SEPTEMBER GENERAL MEETING . . .

He reported that the 9 September golf outing at Quail Chase was successful with more than half of the participants being Corps of Engineers employees. He said the University of Louisville Student Chapter raised $435 selling mulligans to support their activities; and the Post raised about $1,000 from the event.

President Kelly said SAME had a good Regional Conference. The event was held from 26-28 August in Huntington, West Virginia.

President Kelly introduced Thomas Solinger, the student from Dorothy Sayers Classical School who the Post sponsored to attend the Seabees Engineering and Construction Camp at Port Hueneme, California. Thomas agreed to come and provide a presentation on his camp experience. He said there were 40 campers there from across the country. He discussed some of their projects including: designing a concrete beam, building a popsicle stick bridge, and building a cardboard boat with duct tape. Thomas said the campers also visited local engineering firms. And they had a Seabee's Olympics consisting of construction and strength events. Events included: Cross-Cut Relay (cutting 2x4's), Nail Relay, Pull Humvee, "Grenade" Toss, and Litter-Bearer Relay. Thomas reported that his squad won the Seabee's Olympics. In concluding his presentation, Thomas said;

"I came to this camp with really no idea of what I wanted to do after graduating from high school. I'd always joke that I wanted to be a police officer or a firefighter, probably because every boy says that when he is six years old. Yet, coming away from such a great engineering experience has motivated me to pursue engineering as a career.

I saw that engineering is not just a career focused on hard math, although it will contain hard math, but it is something that can be used to help other people live their everyday lives. I loved the fact that we had mentors who were real-life engineers and architects. We could ask them a question about anything that pertained to their field. I also enjoyed being around fellow campers who had the same desire to learn as I did. They did not view the camp as something geeky or unimportant.

It was just a great learning environment. I had such a great time and made so many great friends. I would encourage anyone to attend the SAME camp I went to."

SUMMARY OF SEPTEMBER GENERAL MEETING . . .

President Kelly then introduced Captain Hans Probst, PE, who spoke on “Engineering and Construction Operations in al Anbar Province, Iraq”. CPT Probst, a past Post president, is the Commander of the 7th Naval Construction Regiment (NCR), which is a Reserves unit, and is also an engineer with the Louisville District Corps of Engineers. During his deployment to Iraq, he was Commander of the 30th Naval Command Regiment.

CPT Probst discussed the global mission of the naval construction regiments. He said the mission of the 30th NCR in Iraq was to support general engineering and construction and facilitate achieving Iraqi control. He discussed how his Command was organized. He said they moved about quite a bit with projects throughout the province. Sixty-seven percent of their operations were performed outside the base, but there would be force protection set up to keep them safe while they worked.

CPT Probst discussed the projects they worked on including: runway repairs, road repairs, sanitation (including grating culverts so explosive devices could not be hidden in them), demolition support (including demolishing bridges that were unsafe because of damage), moving rock where needed for construction (Rockhounds), bridge assessments and repairs, bridge emplacements, water distribution, key infrastructure, electrical upgrades, force protection, and other areas. He said they used pre-fabrication whenever possible since it was safer to work inside the walls before moving outside. He discussed the logistics of getting the materials to the theater and managing them.

Regarding the surge, CPT Probst said he could see, by being there, that the surge was working. He discussed the importance of gaining the trust of the Iraqi people, which was accomplished through developing relationships with the sheiks who were over the tribes.

“The surge worked. There is no doubt in my mind, whatsoever,” CPT Probst said. He emphasized the importance of telling the story of the successes, which he said has not been in the Press. He said the news media has had a negative bias.

Before closing, CPT Probst thanked the Kentuckiana Post for supplying the golf equipment and corn hole toss boards to his deployed command. He said those items were very well received.

The meeting concluded at approximately 1:00 p.m.

NEWS FROM THE STUDENT CHAPTER . . .

The U of L Student Chapter will be holding their November Chapter Meeting on Tuesday, 11 November 2008 from 12:15 p.m. to 1:00 p.m. in WS Speed 108. LG&E will be sponsoring our guest speaker.

Chapter members will be volunteering their time and hard work on Saturday, 15 November 2008 for Project Warm 2008 sponsored by LG&E. The annual event is a favorite for students, and engages members in community service.

The U of L Student Chapter will be holding their December Chapter Meeting on Tuesday, 2 December 2008 from 12:15 p.m. to 1:00 p.m. in WS Speed 108. Qk4 Architecture/Engineering/Planning will be providing our guest speaker for this month.

As always, all professional members are welcome; any interested professional members wishing to attend a student chapter meeting on campus, please e-mail Brandon Shelley, Editor and Webmaster for the Student Chapter, at: mbshel02@louisville.edu.

SUMMARY OF AUGUST POST BOARD MEETING . . .

The August Board meeting of the Kentuckiana Post was called to order at 10:10 a.m., Tuesday, 19 August 2008 in the Leaders Club at Fort Knox, KY. President Clay Kelly chaired the meeting.

President Kelly thanked Matt Rathsack for traveling from Michigan to attend the meeting.

President Kelly noted that the minutes of the previous meeting had been circulated to the Board by electronic mail. Comments had been received and incorporated into the minutes. A motion was made and seconded to approve the minutes as circulated. Motion passed.

John Allison presented the Treasurer's report. Currently the Post has no outstanding bills other than the bill for today's luncheon. The Post will cover the cost for the NCO's lunches and subsidize the cost of the Junior Officers lunch. A motion was made and seconded to approve the Treasurer's Report. Motion passed.

President Kelly renewed the discussion on a donation to the U of L Student Chapter for their Engineers Without Borders trip in May. Tony Marconi, Chair of the Education & Mentoring Fund had recommended a donation amount of $3000. The Student Chapter had 7 students participate in the trip at a cost of approximately $1900/student. After discussion a motion was made and seconded to approve the recommended donation to offset the chapter's expenses. Motion passed.

President Kelly read an email from the student the Post sponsored for the Seabee Construction Camp. The student expressed his appreciation for the Post's support and indicated his willingness to speak at a future meeting about his experience at the camp.

President Kelly thanked the Board members who made presentations at the ROTC Leaders Course graduation ceremony at Fort Knox, Kentucky. President Kelly gave a brief explanation of how the award is determined and the history of the Post's involvement in the ROTC award. Based on information that some awards presented by other organizations included cash, a discussion was held on ways to upgrade the Post award. The discussion centered on adding a cash prize, a SAME coin, and a prepaid SAME membership. A motion was made and seconded that a cash prize be awarded in the amount of $250 in the form of a prepaid VISA, MC or AE card. Motion passed. 1st Vice President Marilyn Lewis offered to investigate purchase of the cards and inclusion of the SAME logo on the cards.

President Kelly inquired about whom from the Post planned to attend the Regional Conference in Huntington the week of 25 August. A gift basket has been prepared as a door prize and will be delivered to the conference by Stephen Scott.

President Kelly reminded the Board of the Post Leaders Workshop to be held 5-6 September in Washington D.C. and the fact that attendance by a young member was a streamer requirement. The Post had two members attend the workshop held in January, including a U of L student chapter member. It has now been determined that a student chapter member will not count as the young member. President Kelly will talk with Erin Hall about the possibility of attending.

A reminder was given about the USACE Small Business Conference to be held 8 -10 December in Memphis, Tennessee.

President Kelly noted that traditionally the four elected directors of the Post Board had each taken responsibility for one of the streamers. President Kelly passed out copies of the criteria and noted that committee members would be a good source of information for filling out the criteria. He encouraged the Board to be proactive in collecting the information. Some Board members requested electronic copies of last year's streamer submittal.

Committee Reports:

- In a review of the committee reports, President Kelly noted that the Committee Chairs names have been updated and are current.
- President Kelly passed out a summary of the Education and Mentoring Fund report that was provided by Tony Marconi prior to the meeting.

- Special thanks were given to Rachael Haunz for the set up of the meeting at Fort Knox.
- The membership report was noted as having 10 sustaining member firms that have dropped from the roles, 3 new firms that have joined, making a total of 80 sustaining member firms to date. Individual membership has increased from 140 to 145.
- John Storm noted a change in how the newsletter is being distributed. The email now provides a link to the website.
- A review was provided of the remaining programs for the year. The golf scramble is scheduled for 9 September with a registration deadline of 5 September. President Kelly suggested the December Board meeting serve as a working session to review the streamer submittal that had been prepared by the assigned board directors and include a catered lunch. The meeting will be held on Tuesday, 2 December.
- Anne Black reported on the new Small Business website initiative. The Small Business Committee plans to post relevant articles, highlight firms, note upcoming events, post current year presentations, include contact information and have a statement of the Kentuckiana Post, SAME's commitment to Small Business on the web page. She indicated a decision as being worked on to hold the annual SB Workshop adjacent to the LRL Open House in January since the USACE Small Business Conference is now scheduled for 8-10 December.
- The Student Chapter will add Board members to their newsletter distribution list. The students are again planning to sell mulligan's at the golf scramble for a fund raiser.
- The next Regional Conference will be held in Detroit in 2009.
- President Kelly noted that we needed to identify a replacement for Ryan Tinsley as the Young Member Co-Chair. He also encouraged the Board members to invite young members to the meetings and to get them engaged in the activities of the Post.
- Rosemary Gilbertson reported on the success of the Kentuckiana Post sponsored Governors Scholars session and thanked the Post for their support. Funds from the Post provided the students with lunch, transportation and portfolios. Rosemary and John Allison led the 56 students who chose the engineering track on an excursion to Cave Run Lake. Rosemary shared that the USACE Louisville District has committed to hire 2 of those students for summer work to maintain the thread of connection to these students.

The meeting concluded at approximately 11:15 AM. The next Board meeting date is scheduled for 21 October at 10:00 a.m. in Room 709 of the Mazzoli Federal Building.

SUMMARY OF 2008 KENTUCKIANA POST GOLF SCRAMBLE . . .

The annual golf scramble was held on Tuesday, 9 September at Quail Chase Golf Course. This year we had a total 67 players, 34 Federal and 33 Non-Federal participants. This set a new record for our Post.

A total of $1,270 was raised for the Post in this Scramble and the Student Chapter was able to raise $435 through the mulligan sales and the Putting Contest.

The Kentuckiana Post would like to recognize these firms for their contributions in the Hole Sponsorships.

- Barge, Waggoner, Sumner & Cannon, Inc.
- Michael Baker Jr., Inc.
- Palmer Engineering Company
- Stantec Consulting Services Inc.
- Strand Associates, Inc.

Also, for sponsorship of the Student Chapter's Putting Contest.

- Dunaway Engineering, Inc.
- Palmer Engineering Company
- Zoeller Pump

First place in the competition was claimed by the USACE team of Johnny Ringstaff, Jim Fortner, Jerry Rabalais and Jason Root. The members were awarded $40 Quail Chase Gift Cards.

The foursome claiming the eighth place was John Storm and Nathan Bader representing Stantec Consulting Services teaming with USACE employees Craig and Kent Coombs, also a Student Member. The members were awarded $25 Quail Chase Gift Cards.

The team claiming 17th place and the award of free rounds of golf at Quail Chase was Lynn Cain, Mark Stedtefer and Roger Current, all representing Barge, Waggoner, Sumner & Cannon.

Individual hole prizes and $25 Quail Chase Gift Cards were awarded to:
