NEWS FROM THE POST PRESIDENT . . .

I hope you have had a good summer so far and have enjoyed the unseasonably cool temperatures. If we had known the weather would have been so pleasant in July we could have returned to the mid-summer schedule for our annual golf scramble. Let's keep our fingers crossed for good weather in September. If you have not already done so mark your calendars for Tuesday, 15 September and start putting your teams together (the registration form is at the end of the Flyer). This is always a fun event and a good chance to network and socialize with other SAME members.

My thanks to all who have volunteered to present the Kentuckiana Post-SAME award to the top engineering graduate at each of the ROTC Leader's Training Course graduation ceremonies at Ft. Knox. This is a unique and inspirational experience and I have heard from many of you how much you enjoyed the opportunity. We had more ceremonies to attend this year than in past years and most of them have been on weekends. I appreciate that several of our Kentuckiana Post members took time out from their busy schedules to drive to Ft. Knox early on a weekend morning to honor these young men and women. The Kentuckiana Post included a regional SAME coin along with a $50 gift card for the recognized college students this year. Please watch for the opportunity to be one of the presenters next year.

For those who like to plan ahead I will let you know that the Louisville District has scheduled their annual Open House for Tuesday, 26 January 2009. As in the past couple of years the Kentuckiana Post will host a Small Business Workshop the day following, Wednesday, 27 January 2010. If you have comments on ways we can improve on these events or if you would like to be involved in planning the Small Business Workshop please let me know. In the meantime mark the dates on your calendar and let's hope we don't have a repeat of last year's weather!

SUMMARY OF JULY GENERAL MEETING . . .

The July meeting of the Kentuckiana Post of SAME was held at noon on Tuesday, 21 July 2009 in the cafeteria meeting room of the Mazzoli Federal Building. Eighty-Four (84) members and guests were in attendance. Marilyn Lewis, President of the Kentuckiana Chapter, opened the meeting by welcoming everyone and leading the group in a prayer and the Pledge of Allegiance.

President Lewis then offered a few comments; she reminded everyone that the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley Regional Conference will be from the 11th to the 13th of August in Detroit. She said the Kentuckiana Post's Annual Golf Scramble will be on Tuesday, the 15th of September. She said they moved the scramble to the afternoon to allow people to participate without having to take an entire day off work. She explained that the proceeds from the scramble go to support the troops. President Lewis then thanked those who volunteered to present the Post's awards to individuals who have completed the ROTC Leaders Training Course at Ft. Knox. She said there is still one day available when she needs a volunteer to attend the awards ceremony – Sunday, the 9th of August.

President Lewis then introduced Will Hoggatt from Pittsboro, Indiana, the student the Post sponsored to attend the U.S. Air Force Engineering and Construction Camp in Colorado Springs, Colorado. Will gave a slide show presentation and discussed his camp experience. He said the students broke out into "flights" (groups of about 10 students) at the camp. And the "flights" competed against each other in activities such as building a catapult. At the end of the week, the scores for each team were added. Will said his "flight" took second place, overall. He said they visited the Air Force Academy, which was very meaningful, as he is currently applying to attend the Academy. He said he learned leadership and teamwork from the camp experience. Will thanked the Post for sponsoring him to attend the camp.

Programs Co-Chair Ray Frye then introduced Dr. Mike Evans, of Evans and Associates, who presented "Leadership Starts and Stops with the Leader". Dr. Evans gave an animated talk using personal examples and discussed Emotional Intelligence (EI). He showed a model that describes a process of solving problems. He said it starts with Awareness – an understanding of why we do what we do. Next comes Self Preparation – getting ourselves prepared for a situation by asking, "What did I actually hear and see?" Next is Conflict Reduction – being able to utilize skills such as assertion, listening and being able to know ourselves so that we do not get to our emotional breaking point. The process then leads into Negotiation – where you try to understand the "whys" behind what somebody wants so you can get an agreement that works for both of you. And lastly, you arrive at the Agreement stage with the other individual. Dr. Evans said that an important part of getting to an agreement is your values that dictate every decision you make. He said it is important to realize that others are seeing the situation "through different lenses" because they may have a different set of values.

One rule Dr. Evans laid out is that "No one will ever listen to you unless you listen to them first." He said you can approach a situation Continued by being assertive, aggressive or submissive. He gave examples of each. "Sometimes," he said, "being submissive is the right approach – just walking away from a situation."

After Dr. Evans' presentation, President Lewis thanked him and provided him with a speaker gift.

She reminded the group that the next regular membership meeting of the Post will be on 18 August with COL Jeffrey Ogden giving a presentation on "MILCON Transformation at Ft. Knox."

The meeting adjourned at approximately 1:00 p.m.

Post Secretary

SUMMARY OF JUNE BOARD MEETING . . .

The Board meeting was called to order at 10:00 a.m., Tuesday, 16 June 2009 in Room 709 of the Mazzoli Federal Building. President Marilyn Lewis chaired the meeting. The sign-in roster of Post Officers and Committee Chairs was circulated.

President Lewis noted that the minutes of the 21 April 2009 meeting had been circulated to the Board by electronic mail. Comments had been received and incorporated into the minutes. A motion was made and seconded to approve the minutes as circulated. Motion passed.

John Allison presented the Treasurer's report. Currently there is $16,622.14 in the Post checking account. The only outstanding bill is an amount of $565.69 to reimburse the air fare for a student sponsored by the Post to attend an Engineering and Construction camp. A motion was made and seconded to approve the Treasurer's Report. Motion passed.

President Lewis showed the Board the new speaker gift, which is a set of glasses with an etching of the City of Louisville designed by a local artist. She said the SAME logo sticker will be put on the gift box.

Programs Co-Chair Ray Frye, who was not able to stay for the entire Board meeting, presented his committee report at this time. He noted that the General Meeting being held following this meeting would feature Dr. Mickey Wilhelm, Dean of the Speed School of Engineering, who would speak on the "Cohn Center for Renewable Energy Research and Environmental Stewardship."

Mr. Frye said meetings have been scheduled through September. The July meeting will have Dr. Mike Evans of Evans and Associates speak on "Leadership Starts and Stops With the Leader". The August speaker will be COL Jeffrey Ogden presenting "MILCON Transformation at Ft. Knox." The Annual Golf Scramble, to be held at Quail Chase Golf Course on Tuesday, 15 September, will serve as the September meeting. Some discussion followed on potential future topics for Post meetings.

SUMMARY OF JUNE BOARD MEETING . . .

Director Rosemary Gilbertson mentioned that since the Sustainability Conference is being planned for October, one of the conference speakers could be featured during the October Post meeting. Mr. Frye said a program focused on ATFP (Anti-Terrorism Force Protection) needs to be planned, as well.

President Lewis then gave the President's report, which included the following information:

- Board meetings are not likely to continue to be held in Room 709. She said Board members should be sure to check meeting locations on future announcements.
- The Post has identified a camper to sponsor for each of two Engineering and Construction Camps. Each student will make a presentation on their camp experience to the general membership after they return.
- The Post donated a basket to the Silent Auction for the 2009 Joint Engineer Training Conference. President Lewis said the problem with donating a basket is that air travelers have difficulty traveling with the basket. She said the most popular items were gift cards; but the items that generated the most money were golf clubs.
- Volunteers are still needed (at the time of the Board meeting) to make presentations of an SAME award at each of several ROTC Leaders Training Course awards ceremonies held at Ft. Knox. President Lewis encouraged those who have not previously participated to take part. She asked if the Post would want to award something in addition to the certificate such as a gift card and/or a National SAME coin. Past President Clay Kelly said he would check on obtaining several of the coins. A motion was made to provide a $50 VISA gift card and a National SAME coin to each award recipient. Motion passed.
- The status of the Armed Forces Ticket Operation initiative was discussed. This is a service to the military providing them with unsold tickets for various events. Ms. Gilbertson said that Jay Mazzoni has contacts in the arts in the Louisville area; and he is reaching out to his contacts to ask for support in supplying tickets.
- The fall Post Leaders Workshop is set for 10th & 11th of September in Alexandria, Virginia. There was some discussion on who might be interested in attending the workshop. President Lewis said there is a streamer criteria to have a Board member and a young member attend one of two annual workshops. The Post covers the cost of transportation; and National SAME covers all the other costs. Ms. Gilbertson and Rachael Haunz both expressed an interest in attending.
- The Engineering Division of the Louisville District will have the responsibility for the January 2010 Corps Open House. President Lewis asked for ideas of what Sustaining Member firms would like to see at the Open House. She said they would like to combine the Small Business Workshop with the Louisville District Open House, as was done last year.

SUMMARY OF JUNE BOARD MEETING . . .

- President Lewis asked the Elected Directors to give an update on the status of meeting Streamer guidelines. Director Gilbertson, who oversees the Outreach and Communications Streamer, said there are five criteria for that streamer. She said in order to be designated as a Distinguished Post, all the “required” and “desired” criteria have to be met. She then discussed how the Post is progressing toward meeting each criteria.

Committee Reports

President Lewis reported for the Education and Training Committee. She said an email was just sent out requesting speakers for the planned Sustainability Workshop.

Education and Mentoring Fund Co-Chair Tony Marconi reported that he would have a check issued to cover the Governor’s Scholar program grant, which was previously approved by the Board. He said that as of 30 April 2009, the fund balance is $398,379.37. Tony said the Vanguard Fund has increased in value since the last report, adding about $20,000 to the account’s bottom line.

Ft. Knox Co-Chair Erich Hoehler reported that his committee is coordinating to have COL Jeffrey Ogden speak at the August Post meeting. President Lewis said she would determine if that meeting needs to be held at Ft. Knox or if it could be held in the Federal Building and still meet streamer criteria.

Membership Co-Chair Lisa Wilson provided an update on the status of the Post’s membership numbers. Total Post membership for June is at 594. She said Membership Co-Chair Dan Taylor is following up with the visitors to Post meetings who work for the Corps; and she is following up with the visitors who work outside the Corps. President Lewis asked if the committee is checking to see if all Sustaining Member firms have filled their five allotted membership slots, since that would affect membership numbers, as well.

National Security Co-Chair Lee Carolan reported on committee activity. She said she will be attending the Governor’s Emergency Management Conference to be held at the end of July at the Galt House. She asked if the Post would want to have a vendor booth at the conference, which would cost $200. Past President Kelly said that the new streamer guidelines for national security have evolved toward taking a “partnership” approach, and primarily making sure the agencies know there are Post members available to support their missions in the event of an emergency. Ms. Carolan said she would look further into having a booth and will report her findings to the Board, so a decision can be made. Ms. Carolan said Co-Chair Luke Leising is doing research to put together a survey to send out to members related to their ability to provide support in an emergency.

Small Business Co-Chair Linda Hunt-Smith said her committee is starting to look at what they want to do for the next Small Business Workshop. She said this is dependent on the date the Corps picks for their Open House, since the two events are going to be held back-to-back.

SUMMARY OF JUNE BOARD MEETING . . .

Continued

Past President Kelly said Brandon Shelley is the new U of L Student Chapter President. He said the roster should be updated to reflect that Brandon is now a Co-Chair of the Student Chapter Committee. He said he would provide contact information for Brandon.

Young Members Co-Chair Kristen Crumpton said she has been coordinating with the Young Members group of the Louisville Chapter of ASCE to see if SAME's Young Members group can join them in some of their activities. She said they are planning a joint outing to a Bats baseball game. Past President Kelly said he needs to know the numbers of SAME members participating in those types of activities for reporting purposes. Ms. Crumpton said that ASCE is currently giving a one-year free membership to graduating students from the joint ASCE/SAME Student Chapter, and asked if this is something that the SAME Post would want to do. Student membership to the Post is $35. The Board asked Kristen to provide information on ASCE's program and the numbers of students that would be affected.

Old Business

Secretary Janet Skees was to have provided an updated version of the Post By-Laws for Board review and approval. She said that she found a template on the National SAME web site and believes there are additional updates that need to be addressed beyond what was discussed at the April Board meeting. She said she will summarize these potential changes, coordinate with Marilyn Lewis and Clay Kelly for initial review, and present a draft of the revised by-laws via email to the Board for review at the next Board meeting. The by-laws will need to be presented to the Post's general membership for a vote of approval prior to being adopted.

The next Board meeting date is scheduled for Tuesday, 18 August at 10:00 a.m. in the Mazzoli Federal Building in a room still to be determined. The meeting concluded at approximately 11:30 a.m.

NEWS FROM THE STUDENT CHAPTER . . .

The last chapter meeting for the summer semester was held on Wednesday, 15 July 2009. This was our largest crowd yet with twenty-seven (27) student members and four professors in attendance.

Barry Schneider, general manager of Steel Dynamics Inc. out of Pittsboro, Indiana gave a brief overview of the different plants that make up Steel Dynamics Inc. He covered the locations, types of steel made at each facility, and equipment used at each facility. After Mr. Schneider concluded his portion of the presentation, Patrick McGuine, a structural engineer with Steel Dynamics Inc. discussed the engineering side of working in a steel mill. He stated that not only are there civil engineers, but engineers from all backgrounds; people with backgrounds from chemical to mechanical to mathematics all help in keeping the steel mill running.

Mr. Schneider concluded the presentation by offering the opportunity for the UofL ASCE chapter to take a tour of the Pittsboro, Indiana site. This exciting opportunity is in the works, more information to come in the fall semester.

After several questions from faculty, Brandon thanked Steel Dynamics Inc. for taking time out of their schedule to visit us.

The first meeting of the 2009-2010 school year will be on Monday, 31 August 2009. The Executive Board of Officers will present material on the chapter and discuss meetings, events and competitions planned for the 2009-2010 academic year.

GOVERNOR'S SCHOLARS PROGRAM . . .

Today a Kentucky Governor's Scholar. A few years from now, a new Military Engineer

That is the idea behind the Kentuckiana Post's and Louisville District's annual outreach program pairing Governor's Scholars with Corps and SAME Post leaders for a day of learning and fun. The Corps is always on the look out for brainpower, and the Governor's Scholars are a reliable source for future talent.

"We are recruiting," said Louisville District Chief of Civil Engineering and Post Treasurer John Allison. "We are no different than the basketball program at the University of Kentucky. You have UK coaches go and look at players who are in the eighth grade. We're trying to get this group interested in coming to the Corps."

This program would not be possible without the Society of American Military Engineer's Kentuckiana Post. SAME's mission is to promote and facilitate engineering support for national security by developing and enhancing relationships and competencies among uniformed services, public and private sector engineers, and related professionals.

The Kentuckiana Post supports professional development and outreach opportunities for today's and tomorrow's military engineers to learn what is new in today's design and construction arena.

Since the Corps does not have a budget to fund the Governor's Scholars trip, the Kentuckiana Post granted $2,500 from its Education and Mentoring Fund for the professional development of potential future engineers. The funds covered boat rides, lunch, and educational materials for each scholar.

The Governor's Scholars Program is held on three college campuses during the summer. For five weeks, including weekends, scholars attend classes and participate in community activities. All subjects, ranging from math and science to the arts and cultural studies, are taught in a non-traditional, interdisciplinary mode. Noted scientists, writers, thinkers, and business, government and educational leaders visit the campuses to interact with students. Scholars apply for the program while they are in their junior year. Selection is based on academic achievement, student profile, essay, and teacher recommendations.

This year, the Corps hosted the 54 scholars who spent five weeks at Morehead State University. On the morning of 24 June, the soon-to-be high school seniors boarded two busses for the 15-minute ride to Cave Run Lake, located in the northern section of Daniel Boone National Forest. The scholars then divided into eight groups before embarking on the day's assignment - designing a boat ramp with a parking lot and access road while also taking into consideration flood control plans. Four groups boarded pontoon boats and headed to the site, while the other groups toured the dam and listened to a flood control briefing.

After the site inspection, the scholars and Corps leaders bussed back to Morehead State to work on their designs for the boat ramp.

There was barely enough time - two hours - to complete the project, but that was by design. The constraint forced group members to set enough time aside to briefly address each problem.

"They have to act like a team," said Louisville District Chief of Environmental Engineering Chris Karem. "They have to turn a blank sheet of paper into a design and they have to work as a team."

Scholars used a combination of science and math skills, engineering scales and manuals, and contour maps to complete their project designs. After two hours, groups presented their designs to their peers and Corps leaders.

Cole Keller, a soon-to-be senior at Mercer County High School, said the Corps' academic exercise was a challenge.

"All the rules and particulars, really made us think twice about everything," he said. "It is a good educational experience. They put you in situations you normally do not find yourself in."

Dear Mr. Marconi: Tony

I am a bit late getting this thank you note to you for your support of the Louisville Regional Science Fair, but I've been slowed a bit with back surgery but am doing quite well.

We had a very nice 45th science fair on March 14, and our students who progressed to state fair did well in that competition. Eight of our winners joined other winners from the regional and state fairs as Team Kentucky and went to Reno, Nevada to compete in the Intel International Science and Engineering Fair, the week of May 10. The Louisville crew brought home a little over $400,000 in scholarship offers and software. Team Kentucky received a little over $1.5 million in scholarship offers, software, trips and cash. Not too shabby.

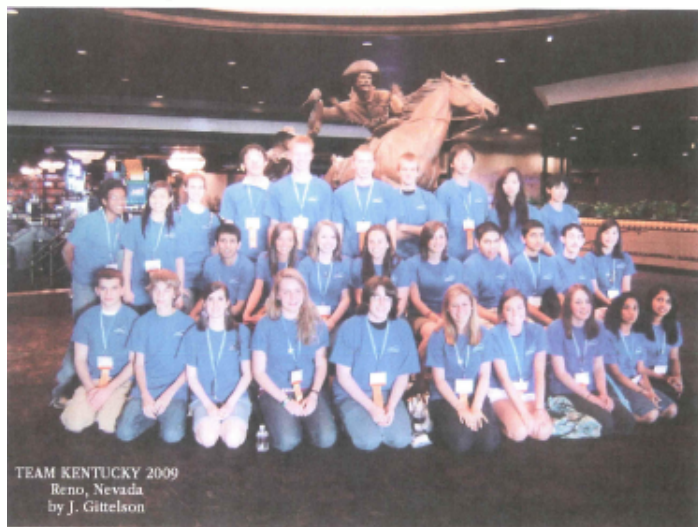

So, thanks for your continuing support and for making the science fair experience a reality for these students. They are more than just "these students"; they represent our community's future. We just need more of them.

The LRSF program and a photo of Team Kentucky are included.

Best regards,
